Early today three shots were fired at a detachment of militiamen from a dark building. The soldiers returned the fire and ran into the building. As they entered a man ran through the rear and escaped under fire. It is not known whether the man that fired the shots was black or white.

16 DIE, 100 HURT IN MISSOURI TORNADO

$60,000 WOOLEN MILL TO BEGIN OPERATIONS ON JUNE 15

$50,000 Worth of Raw Material Contracted For; 40 To Be Employed

With $50,000 worth of raw materials contracted and part of them stored in the warehouse at the factory, the $60,000 woolen mill plant, the first industrial plant secured under the Santa Ana Industrial Fund of $100,000, will start operations about the 15th of June, making products that will make the world an open market to the factory. Wool has been contracted for in California, Arizona and Oregon, and cotton has been contracted in Imperial Valley. A representative of the factory is now on the road purchasing the raw material. Anything made from cotton or wool or from a combination of these materials can be manufactured at this plant. The full equipment will not be in operation before the first of July.

A. E. Bennett of Tustin, P. A. Robinson of Santa Ana and J. F. McAfee are the men who have evidenced their faith in the enterprise by putting thousands of dollars into it. McAfee is general manager for the company. The plant and equipment represent about $60,000.

Employ 40 People
With the plant working under normal conditions and capacity, employment will be given to between forty and fifty people. Should business develop to warrant the management in working two shifts, double the number will be needed.

A boiler for supplying steam for dyeing and other uses in the plant is now being installed. A gas engine will be installed this week, and if nothing unforeseen happens, the material preparation equipment of the factory should be started by the middle of June. A few pieces of new machinery are yet to be installed.

The first step in starting the plant will be in the treatment of the raw materials—washing and dyeing wool and dyeing cotton, carding and spinning. It will probably require two weeks to get a sufficient stock on hand to start the manufacturing equipment and keep it in operation.

While the plant is equipped for the manufacture of anything made from wool or cotton or a combination of these materials, blankets, flannels, hosiery and woolen shirting and overcoating will probably be the first products of the plant.

There is a big demand for blankets at the present time, the stock being almost completely exhausted. Government contracts are available to the factory if the management wants to take up this work, but as yet it has not been decided to take up a contract of this character. It is believed that the success of the enterprise would be better assured by starting in and building up a business by supplying commercial channels.

"We hope to have the plant running to capacity by the first of July," said A. E. Bennett this morning. "At capacity we will give employment to between forty and fifty people. However, we are going to conduct the business on business lines, and the number of regular employees will depend on the business developed. If orders do not justify running full handed, we will keep the payroll down to the amount the business justifies. We will have to give regular work to most of the skilled employees and in order to do this it may be necessary to curtail the number of other employees."

"Eight-Hour Law is going to militate against women. Between 25 and 30 per cent of our employees will be women. In certain departments of the plant it is necessary to keep the machinery in operation a full ten-hour period. One piece is dependent on another—to stop one at the end of an eight-hour day with men working on a ten-hour shift on another would cause suspension of the complete process and for this reason we will employ women only on such work as where the shorter day will not interfere with operation."

SUICIDES CURBED BY NEW RULING IN L. A.

Dr. Gilmer, chief police surgeon, declares since this has gone into effect it has decreased suicide attempts by two-thirds.

RUSSIAN SOCIALISTS MEET AT STOCKHOLM BETWEEN JULY 15, 30

Slav Soldiers and Workmen Reach Decision At Petrograd

PETROGRAD, May 31.—The Russian-called International Socialist conference will be held at Stockholm between July 15 and 30, according to a decision reached by the Soldiers' and Workmen's Council today. Final approval of the date was left to the Dutch International Socialist Bureau and the Bern Commission.

The above conference is not to be confused with the so-called "International Socialist peace conference" delegates for which are now arriving in Stockholm and to which the United States refused passports to Messrs. Berger, Hillquit and Lee. The first Stockholm conference—that for which delegates are arriving now—has been German inspired and has prospects of being entirely German controlled. When this German scheme to dominate the meeting became apparent, Russian Socialists to which representative Socialists to all nations should be invited. Apparently it is to this Russian invitation that the French Socialists have sent their acceptance.

BRITISH STIRRED BY U. S. AERO PLAN

United Press Writer Relates How English Fliers Keep Aerial Supremacy

BY WILLIAM PHILIP SIMMS (United Press Staff Correspondent)
WITH THE BRITISH ARMIES IN THE FIELD, May 31.—Nothing that America plans to do in fighting Germany has aroused more interest here at the front than news received today of plans for a vast fleet of aeroplanes manned by thousands of American aviators.

Germany's aerial eye is already badly damaged. The allied supremacy in the air has several times handicapped the enemy. A report recently showed that through lack of proper aerial reconnaissance the Prussian artillery has frequently turned its fire on the German instead of the British lines.

Four such instances were detailed in the report of this one officer. Each time the Germans turned a terrific barrage fire into their own instead of the enemy trenches, their range had not been corrected by aerial observation. In these four instances reported, the killing and maiming of Germans by their own guns forced evacuation of the trenches thus fired upon.

If America follows out her plan for a vast aerial fleet, she has the chance almost completely to "blind" the German armies.

Not for one moment in these bright, summery days do the British fliers stop their eternal aerial offensive. On the ground below there may be periods of rest or lulls where the opposing armies are either deadlocked or resting—but in the battlefields of the sky there is unending war. The Prussians are fully aware of the prime importance of maintaining at least an approximate equality in the air and are fighting desperately to hold such a place "in the sun."

But indications multiply that the enemy is hard pressed to keep up even the numerical strength of his aerial battalions. The German war planes seem to be more flimsy of construction. One R. F. C. today reported bringing down a boche with five shots from his Colt automatic revolver. It wasn't a lucky hit of the pilot—but a smashing of some important part that sent the German machine whirling from high aloft, crumpled and twisted out of form.

BULLETINS

SURPRISE SMASH OF ENGLISH IS HURLED BACK BY GERMANS

Berlin Claims Successes In Operations Against Allies On West Front

BERLIN, May 31.—The repulse of a surprise advance of the British with heavy losses to the enemy, was today announced by the war office. South of the Aisne the Germans stormed French trenches and took forty prisoners. East of Auberville the Germans captured fifty French in a reconnoitering raid.

LONDON, May 31.—British casualties published during May totaled today 114,118 officers and men killed, wounded and missing.

	Killed	Wounded	Missing
Officers	1,552	3,762	828
Men	25,838	75,718	6,420
Totals	27,390	79,480	7,248

QUIET ON BRITISH FRONT IS HELD PORTENTOUS

BY WILLIAM PHILIP SIMMS (United Press Staff Correspondent)
WITH THE BRITISH ARMIES IN THE FIELD, May 31.—Local attacks, raids, mutual bombardments, incessant minor activity continued today all along the front—but there was portentous "quiet" in the strictly military sense. No masses of troops were in action.

A small British attack south of the Scarpe staged early this morning was a failure. The Prussians were too wide awake and the British attack was broken up.

At 3:30 a. m. British guns began an active bombardment of the Hindenburg line northwest of Bullecourt and for some distance along that sector. Half an hour later the enemy retaliated with a similar period of artillery fire, against British positions west of Bullecourt and southeast of Croisilles.

In the meantime the British nipped an attempted German raid around Fleurbax and sent the boches scurrying back across No Man's Land.

The Germans are plainly puzzled by the lull in the general offensive movement. Their lines are excited into eruptions of star shells and volleys of machine gun fire at the slightest movement in the British trenches.

HUGE POISON GAS DRIVE SMASHED BY FRENCH

PARIS, May 31.—Attacking with poison shells spreading great quantities of deadly vapors, German troops front last night joined in a powerful counter-offensive movement.

The French official statement of today declared the enemy was everywhere repulsed with the heaviest losses.

The Teuton infantry assaults were preceded by a violent bombardment of the French positions. In the Champagne enemy attacks northwest of Auberville and Mont Blond were driven back, the statement said.

"Fire attacks were concentrated on our positions at Teton, Gasque and Mont Haut at four different times and with extreme desperation. The attacks began at 2 a. m. and ended at daylight. The enemy's waves were broken by our fire and our bayonets forced a disorderly retreat with heaviest losses to them. The only spot in which the enemy obtained a fractional foothold was in advanced trenches around Mont Haut. We took a few prisoners."

"Around Verdun there was a violent artillery duel. Lively cannonading was continuing around St. Quentin, Chemin Des Dames, north of Jouy and toward Cerny and Hurbise."

BRITISH AND TEUTON GUNS RESUME DEATH CHORUS

LONDON, May 31.—Resumption of fairly active artillery firing on both sides in a few sectors and repulse of a trench raid, was all reported in today's statement from Field Marshal Haig.

"South of Armentieres a hostile raiding party was driven off early this morning," he said. "A few prisoners were taken. In the neighborhood of Bullecourt and to the right of the Scarpe there was considerable artillery on both sides at night."

SADDLEBACK HIKE IS POSTPONED AS RESULT OF HEAVY DOWNPOUR

Climb Was to Have Been Held Saturday; 1½ Inches of Rain Fell Yesterday

The Chamber of Commerce "hike" to the top of Santiago Peak, commonly known as "Saddleback," has been indefinitely postponed, it was today announced.

Receipt of word that one and a half inches of rain had fallen on the peak yesterday caused the postponement to be made until weather conditions become more settled. The hike was to have been staged Saturday.

Probation Officer Scott attempted to climb the peak yesterday but had to turn back when he had gone half the distance on account of mud.

BRITISH, TEUTONS HOLD JUTLAND DAY

Memorial Services Are Held At Berlin and London On Anniversary of Clash

LONDON, May 31.—Both England and Germany celebrated victories in the battle of Jutland today. Here in London there were Memorial services largely attended by officials and navy officers and men.

Dispatches from Berlin said the observance there was in the form of a great benefit for the relief of the families of submarine crews, held in the Reichstag building, with all government officials present.

The battle of Jutland was held one year ago today.

The high seas fleets of England and Germany met for the first—and to date the only time—in the naval battle of May 31, 1916, in the Skagerrack. The losses in this greatest of all sea battles totaled:

British: Three battle cruisers, three cruisers, eight destroyers and two other ships—115,000 tons in all.

Germany: Eighteen warships of a total of 90,000 tons.

On the basis of the actual tonnage destroyed, Germany claims a victory in this battle. The British contention of victory is based on the fact that the German high seas fleet emerged in a surprise attack, was met by the British cruiser squadron and when the high seas fleet came up, was forced to flee back to its harbor and the protection of mine fields, from which it has not since dared to emerge.

TEUTON-RUSS PEACE FORECAST AT CHICAGO

CHICAGO, May 31.—Government and army officials today were discussing the declaration by United States Senator Lewis, during an address at the South Shore Country Club late yesterday, that Russia will arrange a separate peace with Germany within sixty days.

"The revolutionists had taken the stand that the people were fighting a 'czar's war,' said Lewis. 'Therefore, they cannot now say to the people they must continue to fight for an abstract principle.'

"The revolutionists now say that all Russia was fighting for has been granted. This means that the United States will be called upon to take the burden laid down by Russia, as well as her own share."

"Peace may come within two months."

CALIFORNIA-STANFORD AMBULANCE MEN SAFE

SACRAMENTO, May 31.—L. E. Bontz received a cable today from his son, Raymond K. Bontz, a member of the California-Stanford ambulance corps, announcing the arrival of the corps in Bordeaux, France.

U. S. TAKING SECRET SLACKER CENSUS

Government Agents Begin to Get Check On Anti-Conscriptionists

TEUTONS ARE LINKED WITH PROPAGANDA

Justice Department Is Alive Possibility of Rioting In Big Cities

NEW YORK, May 31.—A secret census of slackers and anti-conscriptionists who encouraged them was started here and elsewhere today throughout the United States by government agents.

Emma Goldman and her fellow anarchists, Louis Lochner's peace term pacifist convention, the new organized American Union Against Militarism and other persons and anti-conscription organizations were put under secret watch.

Stenographic reports of statements and speeches among the anti-fighters here and elsewhere are being taken.

Lists of youths who are expected to refuse to register and who are openly defying the government to compel them to fight, are being compiled.

Emma Goldman's No Conscription League announced today that 10,000 New York boys will refuse to register June 5, and that branches of the league are being organized in other American cities which expect by tomorrow to have a membership of 50,000.

The American Union Against Militarism opened offices on Fifth avenue today. Roger N. Baldwin, secretary, announced that the union's purpose is "to give legal aid to the 15,000 youths who have told us they have conscientious scruples against military service and to urge the War Department to make provision for their exemption."

Among the active organizers of this union are L. Hollingsworth Wood of the Society of Friends; Rev. John Harnes Holmes, Rev. Norman N. Thomas, Professor Harry Ward of Boston, Scott Nearing of Toledo and Edmond C. Evans of Philadelphia.

Hundreds of conscriptable youths today sought employment in the navy yards, munitions plants and other places where the laborers will not be taken for trench fighters.

The No Conscription League will put most of its efforts, Emma Goldman said today, "on Chicago, San Francisco, Cleveland, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Detroit and Buffalo." The league claims 4000 members in Chicago.

BY CARL D. GROAT (United Press Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, May 31.—Germany's secret helpers in America have a hand in anti-registration plotting.

Federal agents, convinced these plots, were running down today, although they believed that the movement is not sufficiently centralized to make it a tremendous menace. Everything possible is being done to crush out the plots and to punish the plotters.

The latest developments are in the open—mass meetings addressed by I. W. W.'s, anarchists and kindred spirits. Their efforts may be based on conscientious objection to registration and draft, but whatever their motives are, the Department of Justice has ordered that speakers who preach anti-conscription shall be herded in just as strenuously as those who use the mails to hide their tracks and spread their doctrines.

From now until Tuesday, every meeting that is likely to be a hotbed of anti-registration will be watched by Federal agents who are instructed to arrest anyone who tries to thwart the registration plans.

The department feels that early, summary action has stamped the fear of the law upon many of the plotters and that as a result the danger has been nearly checked. What registration day itself will bring is a matter that gives some trouble, inasmuch as anti-draft riots may be staged in some quarters of the big cities.

BEANS 3000 YEARS HAILED AS MARVEL

Bean seeds 3000 years old, found in the Aztec cliff dwellings of Arizona, where they had been sealed up for thirty centuries, are growing in the yard of R. B. Herron, naturalist, at Urbana, and local bean experts hail the bean as the future food of the nation, says the San Bernardino Sun. The new bean, reviving a species that expired with the Aztecs, is white and the shape of the present small white bean, but it is about eight times as large. Four of the original eighteen beans found by an explorer in the cliff dwellings were presented to Herron. The explorer found the evidence of where a hole had been cemented in the wall of the cliff dwellings. He dug into it and found the eighteen beans, that had been, in his judgment, sealed up for 3000 years. The four beans were planted by Herron and produced a quart measure full on the first harvest. Some of the beans he sent to the United States Government.

CUBBON INVESTS
$50,000 THIS WEEK IN S. A.
PROPERTY

Buys Visel Property at Fourth and Spurgeon, Mercereau
Lot On Sycamore

After investing between $50,000 and $60,000 in business property this week, John Cubbon stands ready to increase that investment to the extent of erecting a fine business building on Sycamore street adjoining the structure now being erected at the corner of Fourth and Sycamore streets by Mrs. Susie Rutherford and to be occupied by the Rankin Dry Goods Company.

Cubbon has just completed the purchase of the Visel property at the corner of Fourth and Spurgeon streets and occupied by the Wm. F. Lutz Company. The property has a frontage of 50 feet on Fourth and extends through the block to Fifth street. The Rutgers rooming house is located upstairs over the main building occupied by the Lutz Company.

The Sycamore street lot is a part of the old Czarke property and was bought from L. D. Mercereau, who recently came into possession by purchase from the Czarke estate. It is 44x125 feet, six feet of the original 50-foot front being given to an alley. This places the piece on the alley immediately back of the Rutherford building.

"I have bought the lot with a view to erecting a business building some time in the future," said Cubbon this afternoon. "When I will build will depend entirely upon when a tenant is secured. I am ready to build the minute anyone wants to sign up a lease at a rental commensurate with the cost of such a structure as he might want."

AT THE COURTHOUSE
SAYS WITNESS
TOLD HE'D GET
$1,000, IF WON

In the trial of the case in which Mary A. Flood is asking $10,000 damages from the Head Drilling Company, Otto E. Gardner testified that Andrew Anderson, one of the principal witnesses for the plaintiff, had told him that he would get $1000 from Mrs. Flood if she got judgment against the defendant.

Action for damages is based upon the collision of an automobile in which Mrs. Flood and her husband and Anderson were riding about fifteen months ago, near Oleo in the north end of the county, with a truck driven by an employee of the Head Drilling Company. The plaintiff's testimony and that of her husband and Anderson was that the truck carried but one light and it looked like a motorcycle approaching. For that reason care to get entirely off the road to the right was not taken.

The defense asserted that the truck was on the right side of the road and that the automobile swerved toward it and struck it.

There was no denial of Gardner's statement, and in the argument up to noon there was no mention of his testimony by the attorneys for Mrs. Flood.

SEEK TO BRING MAN AND JOB TOGETHER

BERKELEY, May 31.—Bringing the man and the job together, particularly as that problem touches on California's farm labor problem at the present time, is the subject of a conference being held this afternoon at the University of California. At the call of President Wheeler of the university, who also is chairman of the committee on resources and food supply of the state council of defense, representatives of city, county, state and federal as well as private agencies interested in the farm labor question, have come here for the conference.

The conferees are bringing together all available information as to the specific localities where more labor is needed and the places where labor can be secured. There will be no discussion of the Oriental labor suggestion, embodying the bringing of numbers of Chinese to California as farm laborers, the conference members announced.

PRESS GAG FRIENDS ARE LOSING STRENGTH

WASHINGTON, May 31.—The administration has lost strength in its fight for a press censorship. Representative Gard, author of the original censorship amendment, today announced that he would vote to strike out the censorship clause. Representative Graham moved to recommit the bill with instructions to strike out the censorship provision.

FACTS ABOUT CHINA TOLD MONDAY CLUB

The Monday Club was given a rare treat on Monday evening when the members of the club together with their wives met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rafferty and listened to a paper by Mr. Rafferty on the subject of "China," and were given the opportunity of seeing a most interesting collection of curios and art products brought home by Mr. and Mrs. Rafferty from their travels in the Orient.

Mr. Rafferty has a charming way of telling a travel story—the country, the people, their ways and manners and peculiarities, the little incidents that escape the less observing traveler, but which add flavor and interest to the story. At the close of the paper the usual discussion took place, participated in by the lady guests, after which the collection of souvenirs was shown and explained by Mr. Rafferty. A special room is devoted to this remarkable exhibit of art products, and the visitor goes away with a new conception of the native talents and capacities of the "heavenly Chinese."

Mr. Rafferty's treatment of the subject was comprehensive, dealing not only with descriptive material, but with the varied aspects and problems of the Oriental situation, domestic and international. Certain larger aspects bearing upon questions of general progress and human evolution were also developed directly or indirectly, in a very interesting way that led to some philosophical discussion as to what the human race is headed for, and whether it be worth while.

GNOMES, SPRITES INVADE BALBOA

NEWPORT BEACH, May 31.—A wonderful transformation has taken place at Balboa. From a commonplace material part of the world inhabited by human beings it has become a veritable fairyland peopled with fairies, gnomes, sprites and other fanciful beings created for the special delight of the little ones. This transformation from the real to the fanciful has been brought about by the Fox Film Company of Los Angeles, Franklin brothers, directors, who are engaged in making a picture adapted from "Treasure Isle." Some twenty-five or thirty children are employed in making the picture which, when completed, will constitute five reels. Two of the children—baby Virginia Corbin, aged 4 1/2 years, and Francis Carpenter, 5 years, taking leading parts and are well known artists in the "movie" world. Master Carpenter is a fearless lad and distinguished himself some time ago by leaping from a height of eighty-five feet into a net below.

All of the children are accompanied by their mothers or guardians, and those of school age are required to attend school each day. Instructors are employed by the Fox Film Company for that purpose in order to comply with the compulsory school law. The place chosen for making the picture is at the extreme east end of the sand spit opposite Rocky point.

RAILROAD EXPORTS

The country takes a certain amount of satisfaction in the announcement that more than $80,000,000 worth of railroad materials went abroad in the eight months ending with February. It is reassuring to know that our manufacturers are being kept busy and that the rest of the world, particularly France and Russia, are getting the transportation equipment they need. Still, we can't help wishing that our own railroads were getting some of those $35,700,000 worth of locomotives, 18,440,000 worth of cars and $17,786,000 worth of rails, together with a fair proportion of track and other materials. Our railroad traffic has been badly congested all these months or lack of the very equipment that has been exported in such quantities. Not only have they suffered by depreciation of the rolling stock and building material, but their congestion has been increased by the necessity of hauling it in such volume to the seaports.

The old Mosaic law forbade the nuzzling of the ox that treadeth on the corn. It was felt to be only fair that the ox should have his share of what he threshed. The railroads have been playing the role of a muzzled ox and apparently they are contented with it, despite all their grumbling, and intend to keep right on wearing his muzzle.

American locomotive and car factories are booked up far ahead with heavy orders, and nearly all of them are for the export trade. Foreign orders for cars alone are reported around $200,000,000. The public, which bears the brunt of the railroad congestion in delayed shipments and exorbitant prices for the necessities of life, naturally wonders why our own railroads do not buy more of those cars and locomotives.

There is a suspicion, openly expressed in many quarters, that the roads are by no means so poor and helpless as they profess to be—that they could afford to buy new equipment, and could do much better than they are doing with the equipment they have. According to this view, they have been merely playing for a big rate advance, and over-playing their game. We shall know more about that when we see what the interstate Commerce Commission has to say about it.

ECONOMICS AND HOMES

There are people who have feared that the entrance of women into the business and professional worlds marked their exit from the home. It seems to be working the other way, however. It has simply brought business methods into the tasks that used to be drudgery.

The growing interest in home economics may be taken as an indication of this changed attitude toward housework and home-making. Since 1913 more than 1000 high schools have introduced courses in home economics. Many have taken up such work this year, and there are at least fifty more that are going to introduce such courses before the end of the year. In colleges, universities and normal schools, according to a report of the Commission of Education, there are 17,289 home economic students.

This means that the women's movement has not destroyed the home while it has broadened the individual woman's outlook. With the introduction of labor-saving machinery and business ideas into the home the housewife has risen from a domestic servant to an executive position. Her labor is recognized as productive. Whether it is the business woman in her modern apartment or the mother of five with a real house and back yard, she is handling the domestic routine better than ever before, and "Home atmosphere" is losing nothing by it.

DINNER COURSES

A reader writes in to say that he isn't much impressed with the food reform championed by rich women in some of the big cities—restricting their dinners to three courses. That's fine as far as it goes, says the critic, but it doesn't go very far.

"A majority of us have been getting along on three courses or less for some time, except on occasions when we have had hash. It is the sinful waste of food that must be stopped, whether it be the spaghetti of the workingman or the mallard duck of the millionaire, and the number of courses has little to do with it."

These women, he suggests, ought to organize an "Order of the Clean Plate."

"An individual should take no more food on his plate than he really wants to eat, and he should be made to feel the shame of it when he does so waste his food."

Americans are, in this respect, the world's greatest wasters. A time has come at last when we can reform our thriftless table customs without apology or humiliation. What would formerly have been called a stinginess has become a social virtue.

Investors in Liberty Loan Bonds need have no fear that they will not be able to realize upon them in case of financial stress. The bonds will be transferable, thus enabling the purchaser to dispose of them in the market at any time. This privilege of transfer is particularly important to the small holder.

With Malice Toward None

By Henry James

Local Apaches
On a recent Sunday many people happened to visit a certain canyon near by. To the place came several truckloads of young people. While the general throng scattered into the hills, this truck delegation stayed at the entrance and proceeded to drink up the bottled stuff brought along. Toward evening the returning crowd found this particular bunch still there, drunk and boisterous. They had become insulting and dangerous. In fact, they were the Apaches of Paris all over again. One of them set upon a cripple, and a young soldier, clean and manly in his own uniform, ventured to protest. The gang attacked him. There was another uniformed soldier there, and he rushed to the rescue. The result was that both soldiers were cruelly beaten and would have been killed but that the proprietor of a refreshment stand rushed upon the gang with an ax. Then they fell back, growling and threatening.

Now the real trouble with these hoodlums was that they were drunk. In the morning they had seemed a decent enough lot of youths. In the afternoon they were brutes, the females as bad as their escorts. The circumstance is related here in order that the proponents of unrestricted intoxicants may use it for an argument.

Hinting

Carranza hints that Mexico may yet have to fight.
Hope that it will exercise discretion in choice of an antagonist.

Baseball

There is a probability that baseball leagues in large number will go out of business for at least this season.
The players would make fine soldiers as soon as they had become accustomed to not having an umpire at whom to kick.

Moreover, the quality of ball that is being served out here this year never would be missed.

Bogus Claims

Organized hoboes claim that they have conscientious objections to fighting, and that lets them out.
Not conscientious objections; merely objections, just such as they have against toil.

The Mission to Russia

Many papers have expressed dissatisfaction with the personnel of the government commission to Russia.

This is inevitable, and not an impropriety. However, it is not right that any American paper should discuss that matter as an advocate of pro-Germanism. The purpose of the commission is not to carry out the will of Germany.

Not Proper Ballast

Having occasion to drive from Los Angeles to San Diego, a man carried $60,000 worth of diamonds, but upon arrival found that he had dropped them by the way.

Diamonds do not constitute proper ballast. One needs gasoline, oil, a roll sufficient to pay fines—but as a rule, the pocketful of diamonds is tabooed by the cautious.

Nothing Doing

Germany is called upon to control the Turks and prevent them from slaughtering the helpless.
Why should Germany interfere? Despite the activities of the Turks, there are plenty of the helpless left for Germany to have fun with.

The Price of Violins

A gentleman has had the good fortune to recover what he says is a $10,000 violin.

The way to ascertain whether a violin belongs to the $10,000 class is to put it on the market.

Many a man has a $5,000 bull purp for which he couldn't get $7 cash.

This is Different

Suit for $5,000 damages for breach of promise has been brought by a young woman. The usual case of this kind excites ridicule.

Having read the mushy letter the fellow wrote in announcing that he had tied up with another, I hope the plaintiff gets every cent.

However, there will be difficulty in making the loss of such a ninny appear to a jury as anything but a gain.

Blue Laws

Iowa has a drastic set of blue laws and they are being enforced.
Of course nobody has to live in Iowa, but it is a strange procedure to penalize those brave enough to do so.

Skim milk, too widely looked upon as a food, although it contains practically all the nourishing elements of whole milk with the exception of the cream or fat, can be used as a beverage, in cooking cereals, or as a basis for milk soup or sauces. Sour milk also, so often thrown away, can be used in making hot breads or in the home manufacture of cottage cheese.

LIBERTY LOAN FACTS

Where Will the Money Go?

The two billion dollars raised by the present issue of the Liberty Loan is designed to be used by our government in payment for its purchases from our various industries. These industries are quickened by the new demand, employ more men than ever, and the money paid to them is transferred to their employees, who in turn use the money for living expenses, savings, etc. Thus the money returns in time to the same sources from which it originally came.

The special feature of war time is that the circulation of credits is faster than in peace times and idle funds are more generally employed. Each expenditure by the government makes possible greater prosperity for us all.

If you buy a $1,000 Liberty Bond, your $1,000 is transferred by your bank from an account in your name to an account in the government's name. The government gradually draws down this $1,000 to pay for its purchases from all kinds of industries. You are directly or indirectly affected by this increased activity. You will receive this money in wages, or salary, or dividends, and will benefit by this quickened activity in your business. Probably before the entire $1,000 is drawn down by the government from the bank, you will have deposited a part of your income again in your bank. You will then hold a United States government bond worth par and be the richer by the amount you have saved.

It is a fact worthy of note that the deposits in savings banks are larger in the belligerent European nations than ever before in time of peace.

SUBSCRIBE TODAY FOR THE LIBERTY LOAN. ITS SUCCESS WILL MAKE PROSPERITY FOR YOU.

How the Liberty Loan Must be Subscribed to Make it Successful

The Liberty Loan of two billion dollars will be fully subscribed. But its success will not be dependent on its being fully subscribed. It will be successful only if it is substantially oversubscribed and the money comes from the right sources.

What are the right sources?
The best source is the idle money now kept in safe deposit boxes and at home. At the same time, the person who has money in his safe deposit box can immeasurably better his position by buying these government bonds.

He will receive at least 3½% on his money, which is not earning anything now for him. He will lose nothing in security.

The next best source is current savings. This applies to the rich and to the poor. It is just as necessary for you with an income of $3,000 a year to subscribe for your share of the Liberty Bonds as for John D. Rockefeller with a supposed income of thirty millions a year to take his proportion of bonds out of his current savings.

When you buy a Liberty Bond, you are saving a part of your income exactly as if you deposited the money in a savings bank. You are helping your country, too.

If you have a savings account in the bank, you can transfer a part of it at least into Liberty Bonds. The bank will not suffer. Their deposits cannot fail to grow as increased industrial activity results in greater savings of employees.

SUBSCRIBE FOR A LIBERTY BOND TODAY FROM THE MONEY IN YOUR SAFE DEPOSIT BOX, FROM YOUR CURRENT SAVINGS, FROM YOUR SAVINGS ACCOUNT.

HUGE FISH LANDED AFTER HOT CHASE

NEWPORT BEACH, May 31.—Memorial Day visitors to Newport Beach were treated to a "thriller" occasioned by the landing of a monster fish caught off the S. P. wharf about noon. "Dad" Stewart, who conducts a bait selling stand at the end of the wharf, noticed a "set line" behaving in a violent manner that had been left by James Sturgeon who had gone for his lunch. "Dad" had his suspicions aroused right suddenly and caught hold of the line. His suspicions were confirmed by a mighty pull that came near taking him overboard. Right then and there "Dad" did some quick thinking and the manner in which the line had been fastened to a small box helped him reach a lightning decision. Former experiences had taught "Dad" that the best tactics to follow in landing a big fish is to give him plenty of "rope."

This he proceeded to do by throwing the box overboard with about six hundred yards of line attached to it. Away went box, line, fish and all in a mad rush through the water headed toward Catalina. Some one sent an "S.O.S." call for help, and Captain "Rube" Shafer, who conducts the fish market on the wharf, and his assistant, Geo. Robertson, answered the call by launching a dory in double quick time, and laying a course in the general direction taken by the runaway.

By this time excitement was at fever heat and a large crowd had gathered on the wharf to witness the novel race. Some wanted to bet their money on the fish, but others, knowing the skill and dexterity of Capt. "Rube" with the oars offered to back him to the limit. Far to windward could be seen the little box dancing merrily along upon the surface of the water with Capt. Shafer and his daring crew in hot pursuit. Above the din and roar could be heard the hoarse tones of the captain calling on his crew for more speed. After an exciting race lasting four or five minutes it became evident to the onlookers that the boat was gaining on the fugitive, and a few more strokes of the oars brought it alongside the box which was promptly taken aboard. The line was seized by one of the crew and after a terrific struggle lasting twenty-five or thirty minutes the giant leviathan of the deep was brought to gaff. It proved to be a monster "Jew" fish weighing 330 pounds. Sea bass or "Jew" fish as they are commonly called are more plentiful than usual this season and today's catch makes the fourteenth one of the big fellows that has been landed from the S. P. wharf during the past four or five weeks.

Liberty Loan

America is Calling for Financial Volunteers

THAT AMERICA may strike the winning blows for the freedom and democracy of the world, your Government calls today for financial volunteers.

You who wish to see the war ended quickly—you who desire the prosperity and safety of American business—to you Uncle Sam offers today the opportunity to make the best financial and patriotic investment of your life.

To you the Secretary of the Treasury says: "The greatest immediate service the American people can render in this War for universal liberty throughout the world is to furnish the means for its vigorous prosecution. This bond issue is the first step. I earnestly bespeak the co-operation of every citizen throughout the length and breadth of the land in this great service of patriotism."

You Do Not Spend; You Save

In asking you to subscribe to the Liberty Loan your Government is not asking you to spend your money. Instead, it holds out to you a splendid opportunity to save and invest.

When you invest in a Liberty Bond you get a signed promise backed by the total resources of the richest nation in the world—a wealth of 250 billion dollars.

How the Financial Volunteer Aids His Country

The Liberty Loan is to be used by our Government to purchase our products and materials for ourselves or our allies. Not a dollar of this loan will leave this country or pay for other than American products. The financial volunteer enables his country to market more American goods.

The Liberty Loan is going to quicken the pulse of American business. It will broaden the market for American goods. Every railroad, every mill and every factory, every mine, every farm, will be pushed to its utmost to meet the increased activity caused by the Government coming into the market as a buyer on the largest scale in history.

Your purchase of a Liberty Bond means more business for your Government, more business for you and your investment is the safest in the world.

3 1/2 Per Cent Net Income

Liberty Bonds bear 3 1/2 per cent interest, payable semi-annually December 15th and June 15th. Our Government has made these bonds exempt from all taxes, except inheritance and estate taxes, so that they yield an absolutely net income of 3 1/2 per cent.

If before the end of the war, Government bonds bearing higher interest should be issued, you can exchange your Liberty Bonds for them.

Bonds As Small As $50

These bonds have been purposely made in multiples of $50 so that every one might have this opportunity to become a Government Bond Holder. Liberty Loan Bonds mature in 30 years and are redeemable in 15 years. Bonds in multiples of $100 may be registered, so that the income comes to you automatically.

The Ideal Investment

Liberty Bonds combine the three requirements of an ideal investment to the greatest degree known—Safety, Marketability and Return.

Safety—The wealth of the United States is estimated at 250 billion dollars, over 80 times our total National debt (including this issue of Liberty Bonds). The annual income of the United States is estimated at about 400 times the annual interest charges on our total debt.

Marketability—United States Government bonds have always had a broad and ready market. No other bonds enjoy so immediate a market if you care to sell. Any bank will loan money on these bonds.

Return—The interest rate starts at 3 1/2 per cent per year ($3.50 on a $100 bond). Considering the safety and salability of these bonds, the net return of 3 1/2 per cent free of all taxes, except estate and inheritance taxes, is certainly an ample return.

Believing that it is the wish of this country to have this opportunity to invest and receive interest for the financial support they give in this war, rather than to carry the entire amount by taxation, your Government is offering you this chance today. This is a solid business proposition—a chance to invest in the best security in the world while at the same time performing as patriotic an act as you can do.

Be a Government Bond Holder in the greatest war of liberation the world has ever known.

PROPOSE GIVING TESTS TO EACH SCHOLAR OF SCHOOLS

Santa Ana May Be Selected
For Experiments of Department of Research

That Santa Ana's schools may be selected for a special investigation and experiment by the department of research maintained in connection with the Whittier State School was a possibility that lay back of the appearance at the City Teachers Club Tuesday night of J. Harold Williams, director of the department of research of the state school.

The department proposes to select some city about the size of Santa Ana for an experiment. Dr. Williams is a psychologist. He has worked out ninety-two tests, which can be applied to any school child and by which the experimenter asserts he can give the exact status of the mentality of the child examined.

Dr. Williams was one of the speakers at the banquet of the City Teachers Club, given at the United Presbyterian Church. The meeting was arranged by the executive committee, D. K. Hammond, Miss Vanche Plumb and W. C. Roberts, of the club. Since the proposal has been made that Santa Ana be selected for the experiment during the next school year, the members of the Santa Ana board of education were invited to be present.

Following a splendid chicken dinner, served by the Ladies' Aid Society of the United Presbyterian, Principal Hammond of the high school introduced Dr. Williams, who explained some of the tests applied by him in examining a child's mentality.

Practical Tests

These tests have nothing to do with phonology, though the measurements of the head are taken. Among the tests applied is a repetition of numbers and words, and an arrangement of blocks and weights. The usefulness of making the experiment with a child is to show whether or not he should have special training.

That a child's failure to develop in certain studies is not the fault of the child but the fault of the teacher was one of the most interesting declarations of Dr. Williams. He declared that there is no such thing as a child being "born short" in some one or more subjects and normal in others. He declared that the "born short" theory is a fallacy. According to his theory and experiments, the normally bright child who is lacking in adaptability to some subjects has not been properly trained by his teachers. If properly trained he will not be lacking in readiness for any subject.

While the tests listed by Dr. Williams have been applied to a vast number of pupils, it is the desire of the research board to apply them to the school children of a city the size of Santa Ana. Under the proportions generally found, there would be fifteen or sixteen feeble-minded children in the Santa Ana schools.

The co-operation of the school board and other school authorities here would be necessary to carry out the experiment. The only cost would be the travelling expenses of the experimenters to and from Whittier.

Reviews Convention

J. A. Cranston, superintendent of city schools, gave an interesting review of some of the principal addresses delivered at the national school superintendents' convention held at Kansas City. With his own clear-cut vision of the needs of the Santa Ana schools, Superintendent Cranston brought out many points of special interest and value here.

F. L. Andrews, secretary of the Santa Ana board of education, delivered the greetings of that body to the 150 teachers present.

Buy Liberty Bonds

E. H. McMath, former principal of the Santa Ana High School, was called upon. He declared in favor of the purchase of liberty bonds by school teachers, not only as a patriotic duty but also as an opportunity for savings.

NEWPORT MAN LOSES HAND UNDER FREIGHT

NEWPORT, May 31.—Word reached here early yesterday morning that Ben Collins, a former Newport Beach man now living at Los Angeles, was the victim of a serious accident. Mr. Collins is in the employ of the Pacific Electric Railway Company, and while going to work yesterday morning he attempted to board a passing freight train, missed his footing and was thrown under the moving car in such a manner that one of his hands was caught beneath the wheels and badly crushed.

The injured man was taken to the Crocker Street Hospital and upon examination it was found necessary to amputate his right hand. He sustained other minor injuries in addition to the loss of his hand. Mr. Collins is twenty-two years of age and married. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Collins, are residents of Newport Beach.

TWO CROSSINGS GIVEN, OTHER IS DENIED

Railroad Commission Rules On Petitions For Huntington Beach Roads

The State Railroad Commission has given its order in the petitions filed by Orange County and the City of Huntington Beach for crossings on the La Balsa branch of the Southern Pacific.

Two of the petitions were granted, while another was denied. The petition of the county for a wider crossing in Main street at La Balsa station was granted, there being no extra hazard, his was the county's petition.

The Huntington Beach petition asking for grade crossings on Indianapolis, Acacia, Magnolia and Memphis streets, resulted in finding that the first three streets have long been in use and the rights to crossings are already secured. Memphis street is granted a crossing with the order.

however, that with its granting the crossing on Indianapolis street must be closed.

The petition for a crossing on Clay street near the oilcloth factory and cannery building is declared by the commission to be dangerous and is denied, with the statement that the denial is based upon the fact that an expenditure of a few hundred dollars would put Huntington avenue into such shape that the traffic that otherwise might use the Clay street crossing may have easy access to the beach city's subway.

The installation of an automatic flagman on Acacia avenue is recommended.

JAPANESE LEPER DIES AT THE COUNTY FARM

H. Saki, a Japanese leper, died at the county farm this afternoon. Death is believed to have been due to weakness brought about by self-enforced starvation. Saki has been in this county since June 3, 1915. It was thought that he escaped from the Los Angeles pest house and wandered away. He has escaped three or four times from the house set apart for him at a corner of the county farm, but has always been brought back. Several weeks ago he began to refuse food, and though he ate occasionally his keepers were unable to make him eat at all regularly. Recently he would not eat at all. He was 38 years old.

C. B. PERRY NEAR DEATH AS AUTO TURNS TURTLE

7 Garden Grove People Have Miraculous Escape On El Modena Grade

Charles B. Perry, Santa Ana dealer in Dort cars, is at the Santa Ana Hospital today, suffering from severe bruises sustained when the automobile in which he was riding turned turtle yesterday morning on the highway two miles north of Oceanside.

Perry was driving the car. A tire blew out as he was rounding a curve and in an instant the car turned over. Herbert Grove, who lives at Tustin, was thrown clear of the car. Perry was pinned down by the running board, which rested on his knee and shoulder.

Passers-by arriving within a few minutes assisted Grove in jacking up the car and extricating Perry.

Perry was taken to Oceanside and later placed on a train and taken to the local hospital. An X-ray examination was made and this showed that the injured man had sustained no broken bones.

Perry's shoulder is giving him considerable pain, as are various other bruises.

7 ESCAPE DEATH AS AUTO IS STEERED INTO DITCH

Seven people had narrow escapes from death early last night at the bottom of the El Modena grade, when the automobile in which they were riding and which got beyond control, was steered into a bank. As it was three girls in the party were injured, two of them severely. There were four boys in the party and they escaped with slight bruises.

Miss Esther Lott, who lives north of Garden Grove, sustained a badly wrenched back, and bruises of the hip and leg. Her younger sister, Miss Ruth, sustained bruises of the chin and leg. The other girl, Miss Velma Guyran, was thrown clear of the auto and escaped with a slight scalp wound.

The party was returning from the Woodmen's picnic at the Orange County Park. The machine was being driven by Norman Bryan, who lives west of Anaheim.

Coming down the El Modena grade, something went wrong with the car's emergency brakes. The auto gained more and more momentum. On nearing the bottom of the incline, Bryan decided to steer the machine into a ditch alongside of the road. He did so and in an instant, instead of coming to a stop right side up as the driver had hoped it might, it turned over several times.

Passers-by rendered aid to the injured, one of the autoists taking the girls to their homes. The Misses Lott are resting easily today.

The automobile was practically demolished.

The other young men in the party were Waldo Tournet, Henry Dalton and Henry Poyet, all of Garden Grove.

MINOR ACCIDENTS OF WEDNESDAY AND TODAY

Harold Frye, employed at the Santa Ana Iron Works, suffered a fracture of the big toe of his right foot yesterday, when a heavy casting fell on it. The foundry is being moved from its old location at the corner of Sycamore and Second streets to the new building on East First street.

August Romero had the ball of his right eye cut by a piece of iron flying up and striking his eye. He is employed by H. Clay Kellogg on retaining wall work at Sulphur Slide in Santa Ana canyon.

Mrs. Sam Diaz, who resides on Tustin avenue, near Orange, was thrown from a buggy this morning in a runaway and had her right foot badly injured. She was driving on East Washington avenue, this city, about 10 o'clock. Her horse took fright at a house being moved along the street, and whirling in the street suddenly upset the buggy, throwing Mrs. Diaz to the pavement.

O. B. Handy, employed at the Southern California sugar factory, sustained a laceration above the left eye this morning by being struck by a piece of iron.

LAND'S DEPARTED WARRIORS PAID REVERENTIAL HONORS

WALTER EDEN IN SPEECH SOUNDS FERVENT NOTE

Greater Democracy to Come Out of Present War, Is Speaker's Forecast

With the nation at war, yesterday's observance of Memorial Day partook of a solemnity and of an impressiveness even deeper than always marks the day set apart in memory of men who offered their lives for the Stars and Stripes.

Though thoughts turned backward to the days of '61, the engrossing events of today were brought forward in the conversation of the veterans and in the addresses made by the various speakers.

That a greater, a world-wide democracy will come out of the conflict of today, just as freedom was advanced in '76 and '61, was the prophecy of Attorney Walter Eden in a splendid address at the exercises held yesterday afternoon at the First Baptist church in Santa Ana.

At the Cemetery
Services at the cemetery yesterday were attended by the largest number of people in attendance on a similar occasion in recent years. Flowers were in abundance and the perpetual care section of the grave yard was particularly bright with a profusion of choice flowers.

Five comrades of Sedgwick Post of Santa Ana tenderly placed flowers on the graves of 300 heroes of the Civil War, the grave of each being marked by a flag. Geo. J. Morbaugh, Geo. Havens, H. F. Stone, G. P. Lawrence and J. H. Maley were the members who carried baskets of flowers for distribution on the graves, and they were occupied in their work for one full hour.

A slight shower of rain starting about the time the exercises at the monument to the unknown were to commence drove no one from the exercises, all being deeply in earnest in the tribute of respect to the departed veterans.

The usual salute was dispensed with. Musical selections were rendered by a quartet composed of Harry Garstang, Dick Garstang, Cassius Paul and Chas. Chapman. "Sleep, Comrade, Sleep," "Tenting on the Old Camp Grounds," and "America" were sung, with the assemblage joining in the last number.

Chaplain F. M. Grigsby of the Post conducted the ritual exercises.

Closing the Ranks
That time is closing the ranks of the old soldiers was brought home anew yesterday when Sedgwick Post's members marched from headquarters at G. A. R. hall. A few years ago Memorial Day would have found 125 or 150 veterans in line. Yesterday there were fifty-one.

For many years it has been the custom for the young men of Co. L to act as escort for the soldiers of an earlier day. Yesterday there was no such escort, for the younger men have been called to service. With the flag at the head, the veterans, in command of Post Commander H. E. Smith, marched to the church, with the W. R. C. in line. At the church they were received by a delegation of the Daughters of Veterans, attired in white, with epaulets of flags. Between beautiful flags, the double line of blue-coated, service-hatted men passed from the street into the church.

The church was beautifully decorated with flags and flowers, and each number of the program added to the impressiveness of the occasion.

Following the invocation by the post chaplain, F. M. Grigsby, came the singing of "For Country, God and Liberty" by a quartet composed of Mrs. Harry Hayes, Mrs. Joel Crites, Mrs. James O'Brien and Mrs. A. E. Chapman.

"Salute the Dead"
The salute to the dead, in itself a ceremony peculiarly fitting to the day, was conducted by Commander Smith, and then came another song, "Hail the Starry Flag," beautifully sung by the quartet, and the reading of the list of eighteen old soldiers who have been buried in the local cemetery in the last year. Ten of the eighteen were members of Sedgwick Post. The list was read by Adjutant H. F. Stone.

Lincoln's Gettysburg Address was exceptionally well rendered by Arnold Towne, a high school boy, and Eric Simon delivered well the general orders.

Beautifully rendered was the solo, "Lest We Forget," sung by Mrs. Kenneth Van Slyck, accompanied by Miss Eunice Whipple. Standing, the exercises of the afternoon closed with the singing of "America" by the audience. Attorney Eden, the speaker of the

U. S. HERO DEAD PAID TRIBUTES IN COUNTY

Day Is Marked With Profound
Patriotism As Departed
Warriors Are Honored

Of double significance and of stirring deep solemnity were the Memorial Day services held in various parts of Orange county. The realization that the country is plunged in war and that perhaps at its end new names will have been added to the roster of heroes to mourn made an intense impression not alone upon the speakers but upon all who heard them.

It was a day of the profoundest patriotism. Every veteran's grave in the county was decorated and in other ways heartfelt tributes were paid the men who had given their lives for their country.

At Orange the school children joined with the G. A. R. organizations in the rites at the moment and in the decoration of the graves of the departed sailors and soldiers. Memorial services were held at Campbell's hall in the afternoon. The invocation was delivered by Rev. J. E. Hall. Adjutant Teasdale read Grand Orders No. 4, including General Orders No. 11. Mrs. A. D. Bishop read Lincoln's Gettysburg Address. Halford Thomas read "The Spirit of Memorial Day." An address was given by Hon. George W. Prince of Los Angeles. The closing prayer and benediction was given by Rev. W. H. Galbraith.

Fullerton and Anaheim joined at the Anaheim Mausoleum in observing Memorial Day. The services were impressive and a deep note of patriotism was sounded.

At Huntington Beach flowers were strewn upon the ocean in honor of the departed soldiers and sailors, more than a hundred school children marching to the pier for the ceremony. Services were held at the Huntington Beach cemetery. The G. A. R. organizations held a basket picnic at the camp grounds.

Consular representatives of practically all the nations were present at the patriotic observances held at Seal Beach. Speeches, music and an unfurling of international flags were among the day's features.

VENICE THOUSANDS SEE ROSES STREWN ON OCEAN

VENICE, May 31.—Under the auspices of the Kit Carson Post at Sautelle, naval ritualistic services were read and thousands of flowers strewn upon the ocean in memory of the departed sailors and soldiers. The Memorial Day observances here were participated in by thousands of people.

AVIATOR DAUGHERTY SCATTERS FLOWERS AT LONG BEACH

LONG BEACH, May 31.—Flowers were scattered on the ocean during Memorial Day exercises at the Municipal auditorium here by Miss Lorena Bosworth, who rode in an airplane piloted by Aviator Earl Daugherty. The airplane twice soared over the pier.

REDONDO THOUSANDS MARCH IN TRIBUTE TO DEPARTED

REDONDO BEACH, May 31.—Thousands marched with school children, members of the G. A. R., the W. R. C., Red Cross and Home Guards to the new $125,000 municipal pier during the Memorial Day observances here. Numerous patriotic addresses were given.

IMPRESSIVE EXERCISES HELD AT LOS ANGELES HARBOR

LOS ANGELES HARBOR, May 31.—One of the most impressive Memorial Day celebrations ever held here was yesterday participated in by marching bluejackets and United States regulars from Fort MacArthur. A salute of twenty-one guns was fired in the outer harbor.

COVINA OBSERVES DAY

COVINA, May 31.—Approximately 5000 people attended the Memorial Day exercises held in Oakdale Cemetery.

CROWN CITY RITES SOLEMN

PASADENA, May 31.—Pasadena's Memorial Day observances were solemnly observed. Two thousand persons attended them at Library Park.

POMONA HOLDS SERVICES

POMONA, May 31.—Joseph Scott of Los Angeles was the principal speaker at Pomona's impressive Memorial Day exercises.

WILSON TELLS SIGNIFICANCE OF WORLD STRUGGLE

WASHINGTON, May 31.—"In the Providence of God America once more has an opportunity to show the world that she was born to serve mankind," said President Wilson speaking at memorial exercises in Arlington Cemetery. "There is a touch of sorrow, but there is a touch of reassurance also in a day like this, because we know how the men of America have responded to the call of the cause of liberty, and it fills our mind with a perfect assurance that that response will come again in equal measure, with equal majesty and with a result which will hold the attention of all mankind. In one sense the great struggle into which we have now entered is an American struggle because it is in the sense of American honor and American rights, but it is something even greater than that; it is a world struggle. It is a struggle of men who love liberty everywhere and in this cause America will show herself greater than ever, because she will rise to a greater thing."

THOUSANDS HEAR T. R. SOUND CALL TO SERVICE

were urged by Theodore Roosevelt, as he pointed to a huge flag, "to come to the front in an eager desire to serve with their bodies, with every quality of their souls and spirit and mind; with their service, labor and military skill, and not stand upon words, but in deeds for the one flag that floats over us—that flag which holds in its folds the future glory of mankind."

"No man is a good American who does not stand against Germany and for this country with all his heart," said the Colonel. "If any man is too conscientious to fight he ought to take his conscience out and look at it, for it is certainly sick. Every man and every woman who complains because Wall street 'fleeces the government' and then doesn't do his or her share to finance the government, has no right to snarl at Wall street for doing more and being more patriotic than you yourselves have been."

PARIS DECORATES GRAVES

PARIS, May 31.—Graves of American soldiers were decorated in Paris and throughout France and Memorial Day was appropriately observed. The day also was observed in London.

HE ALMOST FELL DOWN

—A. M. Hunsucker, Bogus Chitto, Miss, felt so grateful because of being freed from pain and distress that he wrote the following letter: "I was suffering from rheumatism, kidney and bladder trouble, also dizziness; would almost fall down at times. I started taking Foley Kidney Pills and two boxes gave me entire relief." Disordered kidneys give warning by pains in side and back, rheumatic aches, sore muscles, swollen joints, puffiness under eyes, tired and languid feeling.

WEST VIRGINIA LAW SAYS ALL MUST TOIL

CHARLESTON, W. Va., May 31.—All loafers look alike to the law in West Virginia today. A statute just passed by the legislature provides that every able male between the ages of 16 and 60 must work at least thirty-six hours weekly at some lawful and recognized business, profession or employment. This hits 'em all, both great and small. The law is effective, no matter how big an income any individual may enjoy. Students are exempt during school seasons. Violators may be fined $100 or put to work by the state, in which case their dependents get the small wage allowed. The purpose of this law is to make every able-bodied male do something useful during the war.

CROWDED HOUSE AT DELIGHTFUL PRESENTATION

Cantata Given At School Auditorium Proves Delightful Affair

GARDEN GROVE, May 31.—One of the most delightful occasions of the season took place at the school auditorium Friday evening when the school, with Miss Elizabeth Hadden, director, presented the operetta "Pixies' Triumph" to a crowded house. Those who went at 7:15 thinking to avoid the rush, were greeted with a then packed house. Chairs were placed in every available space and standing room—there was none.

The first scene opened with dainty little Miss Eltheda Witherow as Dorothy having stolen from home on a mid-summer night to find the fairies and become lost in the woods by mistaking Will-o-the-Wisps for the fairies. There were twelve little ladies from the Fourth and Fifth grades, dressed in black and carrying Chinese lanterns. Their songs, steps and lantern motions were in perfect time to the piano music. The arrival of the bevy of exquisitely robed fairies heralds the approach of beautiful Mab, their beloved queen who is ushered in by the bugler, Paul Butler, Johnnie Mitchell and George, the little Jap boy, were pages. Then came twelve little boys costumed as green elves with bells on their caps.

The twelve little girls representing each a different flower with wreaths on their heads and flowers in their hands were dainty and charming. Dorothy is rescued by the Pixie and brought to the queen who makes her a fairy princess. Forget-Me-Not, Queen Mab orders the chorus of flowers and queen elves to entertain the princess. The Pixies are comical little fellows dressed in swallow-tailed coats, their suits being red and yellow, with peaked caps to match. They were greeted with applause both for their appearance and their part in the play.

The king of the Pixies demands that the queen abdicate and on refusal, Laughing Gas, who is ever ready to "emphorize," asks King Jewell to let him arrange matters, as he does with an amicable settlement of a dual monarchy, and the beautiful Queen Mab is led off by King Jewell and hand-in-hand the fairies and the Pixies leave.

The entire evening's entertainment was a success and the precision with which each scene was enacted showed how much time and patience the capable instructors had given to its preparation.

Mixtures cannot have a continuous chain of boiling points. That's why mixtures cannot be as good motor fuel as pure straight-run gasoline. And that's also why the gravity test for gasoline is worthless—gravity tells nothing at all about boiling points, the only real test of gasoline quality.

MEMORIAL SERVICE AT THE M. E. CHURCH

GARDEN GROVE, May 31.—The memorial services at the Methodist church Sunday morning were attended by a large audience. The subject, "The Sword of Love," was very ably and convincingly handled by Rev. O. W. Reinus.

The illustrated lecture on China at the Methodist church Sunday evening by Rev. O. W. Reinus was interesting and instructive. The speaker dwelt upon social and economic and spiritual life in China and gave views of sections of the great wall of China still standing. It was erected three hundred years before Christ for the protection of the inhabitants against the invasion of the barbarous hordes to the north. It was 1700 miles in length, 45 feet high and 25 feet thick.

The sacred cantata, "David, the Shepherd Boy," given at the Methodist church Saturday evening by the young people of the Adventist church, with Prof. L. M. Knapp, director, was indeed a musical treat and was greeted by a crowded house.

The choruses were well balanced and effectively given. The solos, duets and quartets were par excellence. All were highly pleased with the evening's entertainment and appreciate the efforts of Prof. and Mrs. Knapp, who have worked so cheerfully and so earnestly to render this beautiful selection to the public.

A generous response greeted the request for a silver offering. The proceeds will be used for inside equipment for the Union Intermediate school buildings to be erected by the Adventists on the acreage purchased one mile west of the county hospital. Money has been pledged for the purchase of the land and the erection of the buildings, the work all to be donated and it is expected to have the buildings ready for occupancy by the beginning of the coming fiscal year. Auto transportation will be provided for the accommodation of all the pupils from Garden Grove, Centralia, Anaheim, Orange and Santa Ana.

LONDON, May 31.—"Heineys" is the new name applied by the Canadians to the Germans. With many units it has superseded Fritz, Poche and Hun.

"The preliminary barrage," said a Scottish Canadian N.C.O. in describing an assault, "sounded like someone slithering his hand up the notes of a piano and down again. The guns must have set the Heineys' teeth rattling like peals in a box."

Before the attack we spotted a sentry in a sap and were told to get him. We went a long way around, but he must have heard us splashing in the mud, for he beat it down a dug-out. When we got up to the sap, we found it had a little dinner bell hanging to a wire. He was supposed to ring it when a raid started. But he was an oldish guy with glasses and he didn't think there was time to do it. There wasn't another soul in the front line."

By H. C. Hamilton

BY H. C. HAMILTON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, May 31.—The dovetail surface of the National League's first division during the first two months of the season is a surprise, to put it in the mildest terms. The fact that the Giants didn't grab the handle of the schedule and run right through the opposition and even yet have failed to smash back the complaining rivals has sprung a lot of interest where the word was supposed to be dead.

Man for man, the Giants stick out predominately over opposition clubs. As a team, figured on paper, they look the class and were expected to prove it. The only weak spot was supposed to be the pitchers. Pitchers, at that, should have been the least of New York worries, for a team constituted as the Giants, should be able to spot the rest a good pitcher or so, and then whiz by in fairly decent form.

Comparing the Giants' infield with other National League infields is sufficient to prove the preponderance of power among the Polo grounders. Every man of the quartet is able to hit better than .250 and there is at least one man capable of .300. There isn't another infield that can do that. The outfield has three hitters pelting the ball at .300, or within a few points of that mark. One catcher—Lew McCarty—is a .300 man at every stage of the game.

That's why the Giants were figured to make it a one-club race. The pitching staff, weakened in spots, was not figured in at all. Ferd Schupp, considered one of the best hurlers the game has gathered in, was considered good enough to hold his own. Jeff Toreson has a lot of good ball games left; Slim Sallee will be ready, and Pol Perritt is a good pitcher.

But when opposition clubs began outplaying the Giants—deliberately doing things that the Giants couldn't help—something was wrong. The opposition was putting across baseball the Giants couldn't stop.

It's a good thing for the National League—this uprising. It's reviving interest in a race that was supposed to have been settled.

PROFOUND PATRIOTISM KEYNOTE AS THROGS GIVE REVERENTIAL HONORS TO U. S. WARRIOR DEAD

afternoon, held the close attention of his hearers. When he proudly declared that one of his sons had enlisted for service, a thrill went through the audience, followed by a burst of applause.
Eden stated in part, as follows:
Birth of the Nation
"Our hundred and forty years ago a nation was born, fathered by a Spirit of Liberty and Freedom. With the birth of that nation, and fathered by the same spirit that gave it birth, a great idea of government was also ushered into the world. The idea which was, many years thereafter, so aptly expressed by the great emancipator, as a government of the people, by the people, for the people.

"In their infancy this new nation, and this new idea of government, were nurtured, sustained and reared to maturity by many sacrifices and hardships, and the spilling of much of the blood of the patriots of that period.
"The men of that period had learned from bitter experience the lesson of government by despotic power. They had tasted the tainted fruits of a government that taxed them without representation and laid heavy burdens upon them without giving them a voice in their government. In defense of their infant nation and this new idea, and to make themselves free to govern themselves, they went out from peaceful homes and firesides, quit their usual peaceful pursuits, and buckled on the armor of war.
"Again, in '61, the very life of this nation, and this idea of government for which it stands, were put to the supreme test. Many of you are veterans of that war and know better than I can tell you, of the sacrifices, the hardships and the heart aches which were caused by it. It is needless for me to refer to the suffering of heart and mind of the women of that period, on account of brother being pitted against brother, father against son and countryman against countryman. All these sacrifices were made to preserve this nation, and the idea of government that was born with it. Are they not more priceless than jewels, aye, more priceless than life itself?
Sacrificed Blood for Rights
"By the sacrifice of blood and the hardy endurance of our Revolutionary forefathers, this nation and this new idea, were brought into being and nurtured through their infancy. By the sacrifice of blood and the hardy endurance of our heroes of '61 this nation and this idea of government were preserved to us in their maturity. By these sacrifices, we of the present generation, many years thereafter, are permitted to enjoy the blessings of a government of the people, by the people, and for the people.

"There are those who say it is sinful and unchristian to fight. But I say there are exceptions and it all depends on circumstances. Sometimes God's people must fight. To wage war for an unholy cause is sinful and wrong; but to defend ourselves against wrong is a Christian duty.
"Was it right or was it wrong for the men of '76 and of '61 to fight? What think you about that? Was it unchristian for these men to make war? Do you believe that the Recording Angel has anything charged against them, because, perhaps they may have been the instrument of death to an enemy?
"Suppose the men of 1776 had staid at home and refused to have contended for their rights, we would have no American Republic. We would have no liberty and freedom.
"It is not always unchristian to fight. Christians should not refuse to fight to regulate evil, or the world will be all wrong. Some Christian men and women get a wrong impression of Christian duty under stress of war. Christianity itself has been kept alive and heralded to the world only at the point of the sword. Its enemies have, ever since the Christian era, opposed with bloodshed the spread of Christian doctrine.
"It is unchristian to perpetrate a wrong so great that a Christian must fight to correct it. So long as there be men in the world willing to perpetrate great wrong, Christian men must and will fight to make wrong right.

It is the mission in the world of true Christian men and women to crush evil. The unchristian man will not see the need of crushing it.
Only a Handful of Men
"That little army of men of 1776 little knew at that time how well they were building. The idea of free government took root in mighty good soil; but its territorial extent was small and had little prestige in the world. They were but a handful of men, citizens of but thirteen sparsely settled states. The old world thought but little about this new idea. Here in this country, it has always been considered by our people the bright and shining star in the diadem of our Republic.
"It is and always has been, and always will be the bulwark of Liberty. It is the one thing that an American does now, and always did, and always will prize most highly. It is for the preservation of this liberty of government that the American will fight now most zealously. There is not a true, red-blooded American today, be he old or young, but would die rather than give up this right of self-government. We may have some men in this country who think they are pacifists, and even think that it is a sin to fight; but I will say, that there is not a man of them, who, understanding his rights as an American citizen, if the acid test should ever come to him, when he could see that this right of self-government were about to be taken from him, would fight to the last ditch.
Chains of Despotism Broken
"Russia has broken the chains of despotism. China, theretofore considered the most impossible, has but recently deposed her ruling family and her people have taken over her government. Other thrones are tottering and must fall. This idea has become a world-wide flame.
"The mighty struggle in France today has developed into a fight against despotism. We are substantially all agreed that the great world war now going on in Europe would never have come to pass had the power in Germany to govern the Empires in that part of the world rested with the people themselves.
"It is the hope of the Christian world that when peace shall come, the chief result of this great contest will be that the light from the fires of Liberty and Freedom, kindled in 1776, will light up all the dark places in the universe; and that no monarch, prince or potentate will ever again have the power to declare war; but that such power will be reserved by the people themselves, through their duly elected representatives.
"Our ancestors of 1776 fought for a noble principle, 'The freedom of man.' And our fathers of '61 fought that the same idea might be preserved. We, the descendants of those noble patriots, and the beneficiaries of the government which the men of 1776 gave us, and which you men and your dead comrades preserved for us, are now in this great world war to make that idea world wide. The actual conflict comes closer and closer to us day by day.

Freedom Must Not Perish
"We are about to take an active part in the struggle, my friends, and we of the present generation are determined that this ideal, which has cost so much blood and sacrifice in the past, shall not perish from the earth; but that this great sleeping giant shall break asunder the chains that have bound him to our own country, and that he shall march into Europe, and Asia if need be, and there he will plant the seed of the doctrine of the 'Freedom of Man,' until all the nations of the earth shall be free, and thereby an old doctrine in a new dress shall become a power in the world, and that is: 'The Brotherhood of Man.' When man shall be free, and not before, will he know his brother and recognize his rights to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. In my judgment this will be the hardest conflict we have ever engaged in; and I know that the questions that will be settled by it are of the greatest importance in our generation than has ever known. Greater things are happening in our generation than has ever been recorded in history. For I believe that out of this conflict will come a federation of the world, with a parliament of man, with a world court, whose decrees will be enforced by the combined power of the federated nations.
7,000,000 Lose Their Lives
"Radical changes from the old order of things such as this never have and never will be made in the affairs of men, in time of peace. Changes of such significance are born only of conflict, of revolution and strife. The very stress of this war, in which it is said that 7,000,000 men have lost their lives, is the price the world must pay to bring about a condition where war will be no more.
"Let us hope and pray that this great price will not now be paid in vain; but that when the war is over provision will be made to police the world and thereby protect a weak nation against a strong one, and prevent or punish any wrong perpetrated by one nation against another, the same as criminals are now dealt with in our local courts."

Student Body Orators Stage Impressive Program In Memory of Fighters

Impressive was the program given by members of the high school student body Tuesday in commemoration of the men who fought to maintain our Union, and those who fought to destroy it.

The Star Spangled Banner was sung, followed by the reading of General Orders No. 11 by Eric Simon. These orders officially set May 30 as Decoration Day. Arnold Townes then read President Lincoln's Second Inaugural Address. Donald Jerome read a selection entitled "A Fool." The combined glee clubs sang "America, the Beautiful." Donald Winans of the oratory class gave an oration on Memorial Day. Miss Elizabeth Bruner read "Old Glory."

F. M. Grigsby, a Civil War veteran, gave an interesting talk saying that the average student of today does not appreciate the splendid school systems he has access to. In comparison to our school he described the one he had the privilege of attending. "The bars are down, permitting advancement. Set your mark high. Stand for God and humanity, and take advantage of every opportunity." Principal Hammond thanked the speaker on behalf of the student body for his talk. The singing of America concluded the program.

Woman Saved From a Serious Surgical Operation.

Lebanon, Ky.—"For four years I suffered from female troubles, headaches, and nervousness. I could not sleep, had no appetite and it hurt me to walk. If I tried to do any work, I would have to lie down before it was finished. The doctors said I would have to be operated on and I simply broke down. A friend advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and the result is I feel like a new woman. I am well and strong, do all my own house work and have a beautiful baby girl. I know Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound saved me from an operation which every woman dreads."—Mrs. Mattie Pinkham, 1321 Christy Ave., Lebanon, Ky.
Everyone naturally dreads the surgeon's knife. Sometimes nothing else will do, but many times Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has saved the patient and made an operation unnecessary.

Tells How to Take Soreness From a Corn and Lift it Right Out

Hospital records show that every time you cut a corn you invite lockjaw or blood poison, which is needless, says a Cincinnati authority, who tells you that a quarter ounce of a drug called freezone can be obtained at little cost from the drug store but is sufficient to rid one's feet of every hard or soft corn or callus.
You simply apply a few drops of this on a tender, aching corn and the soreness is instantly relieved. Shortly the entire corn can be lifted out, root and all, without pain.
This drug is sticky but dries at once and is claimed to just shrivel up any corn without inflaming or even irritating the surrounding tissue or skin.
If your wife wears high heels she will be glad to know of this.—Advertisement.

"Russia has broken the chains of despotism. China, theretofore considered the most impossible, has but recently deposed her ruling family and her people have taken over her government. Other thrones are tottering and must fall. This idea has become a world-wide flame.
"The mighty struggle in France today has developed into a fight against despotism. We are substantially all agreed that the great world war now going on in Europe would never have come to pass had the power in Germany to govern the Empires in that part of the world rested with the people themselves.
"It is the hope of the Christian world that when peace shall come, the chief result of this great contest will be that the light from the fires of Liberty and Freedom, kindled in 1776, will light up all the dark places in the universe; and that no monarch, prince or potentate will ever again have the power to declare war; but that such power will be reserved by the people themselves, through their duly elected representatives.
"Our ancestors of 1776 fought for a noble principle, 'The freedom of man.' And our fathers of '61 fought that the same idea might be preserved. We, the descendants of those noble patriots, and the beneficiaries of the gov-

"We are about to take an active part in the struggle, my friends, and we of the present generation are determined that this ideal, which has cost so much blood and sacrifice in the past, shall not perish from the earth; but that this great sleeping giant shall break asunder the chains that have bound him to our own country, and that he shall march into Europe, and Asia if need be, and there he will plant the seed of the doctrine of the 'Freedom of Man,' until all the nations of the earth shall be free, and thereby an old doctrine in a new dress shall become a power in the world, and that is: 'The Brotherhood of Man.' When man shall be free, and not before, will he know his brother and recognize his rights to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. In my judgment this will be the hardest conflict we have ever engaged in; and I know that the questions that will be settled by it are of the greatest importance in our generation than has ever known. Greater things are happening in our generation than has ever been recorded in history. For I believe that out of this conflict will come a federation of the world, with a parliament of man, with a world court, whose decrees will be enforced by the combined power of the federated nations.
7,000,000 Lose Their Lives
"Radical changes from the old order of things such as this never have and never will be made in the affairs of men, in time of peace. Changes of such significance are born only of conflict, of revolution and strife. The very stress of this war, in which it is said that 7,000,000 men have lost their lives, is the price the world must pay to bring about a condition where war will be no more.
"Let us hope and pray that this great price will not now be paid in vain; but that when the war is over provision will be made to police the world and thereby protect a weak nation against a strong one, and prevent or punish any wrong perpetrated by one nation against another, the same as criminals are now dealt with in our local courts."
